HIS MAJESTIES

Eing by Gods Ordinance, according to Our just Title, Defender of the Faith, and supream Governour of the Church within these Our Dominions, We hold it most agreeable to this Our Kingly Office, and
Our own Religious zeal, to conserve and maintain the Church committed to Our charge in the unity of true Religion, and in the bond of peace: and not to suffer unnecessary Disputations, altercations, or questions to be raised, which may nourish faction both in the Church and Common-wealth. We have therefore upon mature deliberation, and with the advice of so many of Our Bishops as might conveniently be called together, thought fit to make this Declaration following; That the Articles of the Church of England (which have been allowed and authorized heretofore, and which Our Clergie generally have subscribed unto) do contain the true doctrine of the Church of England, ^{not} agreeable to Gods word: which We do therefore ratifie and confirm, requiring all Our loving Subjects to continue in the uniform profession thereof, and prohibiting the least difference from the said Articles, which to that end We command to be new printed, and this Our declaration to be published therewith.

That

1 That We are supream Governour of the Church of England : and that if any difference arise about the external policie, concerning Injunctions, Canons, or other Constitutions whatsoever there-to belonging, the Clergie in their Convocation is to order and settle them, having first obtained leave under Our broad Seal so to do : and We approving their said Ordinances and Constitutions, providing that none be made contrary to the Laws and Customes of the land.

2 That out of Our Princely care, that the Church-men may do the work which is proper unto them, the Bishops and Clergie, from time to time in Convocation, upon their humble desire shall have licence under Our broad Seal, to deliberate of, and to do all such things, as being made plain by them, and assented

3 That for the present, though some differences have been ill raised, yet We take comfort in this, that all Clergie-men within Our Realm, have alwayes most willingly subscribed to the Articles established, which is an Argument to Us, that they all agree in the true usual literal meaning of the said Articles, and that even in those curious points in which the present differences lie, men of all sorts take the Articles of the Church of England to be for them, which is an argument again, that none of them intend any desertion of the Articles established.

And that no man hereafter shall either print or preach, to draw the Article aside any way, but shall submit to it in the plain and full meaning thereof: And shall not put his own sense or Comment to be the meaning of the Article, but shall take it in the literal and Grammatical sense.

RELIGION.

I.

Of faith in the holy Trinity.

Here is but one living and true God, eberlasting, without body, parts, or passions; of infinite power, wisdom, and goodness, the maker and preserver of all things both visble and invisble. And in unity of this Godhead there be three persons, of one substance, power, and eternity; the Father, the Son, and the holy Ghost.

Of the Word or Son of God, which was made very man.

The Son, which is the Word of the Father, begotten from eberlasting of the Father, the very and eternal God of one substance with the Father, took mans nature in the womb of the blessed Virgin, of her substance: so that two whole and perfect natures, that is to say, the Godhead and manhood, were joyned together in one person, never to be divided, whereof is one Christ, very God and very man, who truly suffered, was crucified, dead, and buried, to reconcile his father to us, and to be a sacrifice, not onely for original guilt, but also for actual sins of men.

Of the going down of Christ into hell.

AS Christ died for us, and was buried: so also is it to be believed, that he went down into hell.

Of the Resurrection of Christ.

Christ did truly rise again from death, and took again his body, with flesh, bones, and all things appertaining to the perfection of mans nature, wherewith he ascended into heaven, and there sitteth, until he return to judge all men at the last day.

Of the holy Ghost.

The holy Ghost, proceeding from the father and the Son, is of one substance, Majestic and Glorv, with the father and the Son, very and eternal God.

Of the sufficiency of the holy Scriptures
for salvation,

Holy Scripture containeth all things necessary to salvation: so that whatsoever is not read therein, nor may be proved thereby, is not to be required of any man, that it should be believed as an Article of the faith, or be thought requisite or necessary necessary to saluation. In the name of the holy Scripture, we do understand those Canonically Books of the Old and New Testament, of whose authority was never any doubt in the Church.

And the other Books (as Hierome saith) the Church doth read for example of life and instruction of manners; but yet doth it not apply them to establish any doctrine; such are these following.

The 4. Book Esdras.	The song of the three children.

not Canonical

Articles of Religion.

All the books of the new Testament, as they are commonly received, we do receive and account them Canonical.

7.
Of the old Testament.

The old Testament is not contrary to the new, for both in the old and new Testament, everlasting life is offered to mankind by Christ, who is the only Mediatour between God and man, being both God and man. Wherefore they are not to be heard, which feign that the old fathers did look onely for transitory promises. Although the law given from God by Moses, as touching Ceremonies and Rites, do not binde Christian men, nor the civil precepts thereof ought of necessitie to be received in any Common wealth: yet notwithstanding no Christian man whatsoever, is free from the obedience of the commandments, which are called Moral.

Of the three Creeds.

The three Creeds, Nice Creed, Athanasius Creed, and that which is commonly called the Apostles Creed, ought thorowly to be received and believed: for they may be proved by most certain warrants of holy Scripture.

Of original birth or sin,

Original sin standeth not in the following of Adam, (as the Pelagians do vainly talk) but it is the fault and corruption of the nature of every man,

Articles of Religion

man, that naturally is ingendred of the offspring of Adam, whereby man is very far gone from original righteousness, and is of his own nature inclined to evil, so that the flesh lusteth alwayes contrary to the spirit, and therefore in every person born into this world, it deserueth Gods wrath and damnation. And this infection of nature doth remain, yea, in them that are regenerated, whereby the lust of the flesh, called in Greeke concupiscentia carnis, which some do expound the wisdom, some sensuality, some the affection, some the desire of the flesh, is not subject to the law of God. And although there is no condemnation for them that beleieve and are baptized, yet the apostle doth confess, that concupiscence and lust, hath of it self the nature of sin.

Of free will.

The condition of man after the fall of Adam, is such, that he cannot turn and prepare himself by his own natural strength and good works to faith and calling upon God: wherefore we have no power to do good works pleasant and acceptable to God, without the grace of God by Christ preventing us, that we may have a good will, and working with us, when we have that good will.

11.

Of the Justification of man.

WE are accounted righteous before God, only for the merit of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ by faith, and not for our own works, or deservings. Wherefore, that we are justified by faith,

T. 9

Articles of Religion.

faith only, is a most wholesome doctrine, and very full of comfort, as more largely is expelld in the Homily of Justification.

12.

Of good works.

100 Albeit that good works, which are the fruits of faith, and follow after Justification, cannot put away our sins, and endure the severity of Gods judgement, yet are they pleasing and acceptable to God in Christ, and do spring out necessarily of a true and lively faith, in so much that by them a lively faith may be as evidently known, as a tree discerned by the fruit.

Of works before Justification.

100 Works done before the grace of Christ, and the inspiration of his Spirit, are not pleasant to God, soasmuch as they spring not of faith in Jesu Christ, neither do they make men meet to receive grace, or (as the School-authors say) deserve grace of congruity: yea, rather for that they are not done as God hath willed and commanded them to be done, we doubt not but they have the nature of sin.

14.

Of works of supererogation.

100 Voluntary works besides, over and above Gods commandments, which they call works of supererogation, cannot be taught without arrogancy and impiety. for by them men do do declare that they do not only render unto God as much as they are bound to do, but that they do more for his sake then of bounden duty is required: Whereas Christ saith plainly, When ye have done all that are commanded to you, say, We are unprofitable servants.

Articles of Religion.

15.

Of Christ alone without sin.

Christ in the truth of our nature was made like unto us in all things (sin only except) from which he was clearly void, both in his flesh, and in his spirit. He came to be a Lamb without spot, who by sacrifice of himself once made, should take away the sins of the world: and sin (as S. John saith) was not in him. But all we the rest (although baptized, and born again in Christ) yet offend in many things, and if we say we have no sin, we deceive our selves, and the truth is not in us.

Of sin after Baptisme.

Not every deadly sin willingly committed after Baptisme is sin against the holy Ghost, and unpardonable. Wherefore the grant of repentance is not to be denied to such as fall into sin after Baptisme. After we have received the holy Ghost, we may depart from grace given, and fall into sin, and by the grace of God (we may) arise again, and amend our lives. And therefore they are to be condemned, which say they can no more sin as long as they live here, to deny the place of forgiveness to such as truly repent.

Of

Articles of Religion.

17.

Of Predestination and Election.

Predestination to life is the eberlasting purpose of God, whereby (befoze the foundations of the world were laid) he hath constantly decreed by his counsell, secret to us, to deliver from curse and damnation those whom he hath chosen in Christ out of mankind, and to bring them by Christ to eberlasting salvation, as vessels made to honour. Wherefoze they which be indued with so excellent a benefit of God, be called according to Gods purpose by his Spirit working in due season: they through grace obey the calling: they be justified freely: they be made sons of God by adoption: they be made like the Image of his only begotten Son Jesus Christ: they walk religiously in good works, and at length by Gods mercy they attain to eberlasting felicity.

As the godly consideration of Predestination and our Election in Christ is full of sweet, pleasant, and unspeakable comfort to godly persons, and such as feel in themselves the working of the Spirit of Christ mortifying the works of the flesh, and their earthly members, & drawing up their minde to high and heavenly things, as well because it doth greatly establish and confirm their faith of eternal salvation, to be enjoyed through Christ, as because it doth fervently kindle their love towards God: So for curious and carnal persons, lacking the Spirit of Christ, to have continually before their eyes the sentence of Gods predestination, is a most dangerous downfall, whereby the de-vill

Articles of Religion.

will doeth thrust them either into desperation, or into wretchedness of most unclean living, no less pernicious then desperation.

Furthermore, we must receive Gods promises in such wise as they be generally set forth to us in holy Scripture: and in our doings that will of God is to be followed, which we have expressly declared unto us in the word of God.

Of obtaining eternal salvation only by the Name of Christ,

They also are to be had accursed, that presume to say that every man shall be saved by the law or sect which he professeth, so that he be diligent to frame his life according to that law, and the light of nature. For holy Scripture doth set out unto us only the name of Jesus Christ where by men must be saved.

Of the Church.

The visible Church of Christ is a congregation of faithful men, in the which the pure word of God is preached, and the Sacraments be duly ministered, according to Christs ordinance, in all those things that of necessity are requisite to the same.

As the Church of Jerusalem, Alexandria, and Antioch have erred: So also the Church of Rome hath erred, not onely in their living and manner of ceremonies, but also in matters of faith.

Articles of Religion.

Of the authority of the Church.

The Church hath power to decree rites or Ceremonies, and authority in controverting of such: And yet it is not lawfull for the Church to ordain any thing that is contrary to Gods word written, neither may it so expound one place of scripture, that it be repugnant to another. Wherefore although the Church be a witness and a keeper of holy writ, yet as it ought not to decree any thing against the same, so besides the same ought it not to enforce any thing to be believed for necessity of salvation.

Of the authority of general Councils.

General Councils may not be gathered together without the commandment and will of princes. And when they be gathered together (forasmuch as they be an assembly of men, whereof all be not governed with the Spirit and Word of God) they may erre, and sometime have erred, even in things pertaining unto God. Wherefore things ordained by them as necessary to salvation, have neither strength nor authority, unless it may be proved that they be taken out of holy scripture.

Of Purgatorie.

The Romish doctrine concerning Purgatorie, Pardons, Wexipping and adoration, also of Images, as of Beates, and also invocation of Saints,

Articles of Religion.

Of ministering in the Congregation.

It is not lawful for any man to take upon him the office of publick preaching, or ministering the Sacraments in the Congregation, before he be lawfully called, and sent to execute the same. And those we ought to judge lawfully called and sent, which be chosen and called to this work by men, who have publick authority given unto them in the Congregation, to call and send Ministers into the Lords vineyard.

Of speaking in the Congregation in such a tongue as the people understandeth.

It is a thing plainly repugnant to the Word of God, and the custome of the Primitive Church, to have publique prayer at the Church, or to minister the Sacraments in a tongue not understood of the people.

C. 10

Of the Sacraments.

Sacraments ordained of Christ be not only badges or tokens of Christian men's profession: but rather they be certain sure witnesses, and effectual signes of grace and Gods good will towards us: by the which he doth work inwardly in us, and doth not only quicken, but also strengthen and confirm our faith in him.

C. 10

Articles of Religion.

There are two Sacraments ordained of Christ our Lord in the Gospel, that is to say, Baptisme, and the Supper of the Lord.

Those five commonly called Sacraments, that is to say Confirmation, Penname, Orders, Matrimony, and extreme unction, are not to be counted for Sacraments of the Gospel, being such as have grown, partly of the corrupt following of the Apostles, partly are states of life allowed in the Scriptures: but yet have not like nature of Sacraments with Baptisme and the Lords Supper, for that they have not any visible signe or ceremony ordained of God.

The Sacraments were not ordained of Christ to be gazed upon, or to be carried about, but that we should duly use them. And in such onely, as worthily receive the same, they have a wholsome effect or operation: but they that receive them unworthily purchase to themselves damnation, as S. Paul saith.

Although in the visible church the evil be ever mingled with the good, and some time the evil have chief authority in the ministracion of the word and Sacraments: yet forasmuch as they do not the same in their own name, but in Christs, and do minister by his commission and authority, we may use their ministerie both in hearing the word of God, and in the receiuing of the Sacraments, too often

Neither is the effect of Christs ordinance taken away by their wickedness, nor the grace of Gods gifts diminished from such, as by faith, and rightly do receive the Sacraments ministered unto them, which be effectual, because of Christs institution and promise, although they be ministered by evil men.

Nevertheless, it appertaineth to the discipline of the Church, that enquiry be made of evil Ministers, and that they be accused by those that have knowledge of their offences: and finally being found guilty, by just judgement be deposed.

Of Baptisme.

Baptisme is not onely a signe of profession, and mark of difference, whereby Christian men are discerned from others that be not Christened: but it is also a signe of Regeneration or new birth, whereby, as by an instrument, they that receive Baptisme rightly are grafted into the Church: the promises of the forgiveness of sin, and of our adoption to be the sons of God, by the holy Ghost, are visibly signed and sealed: faith is confirmed, and grace increased by vertue of prayer unto God. The Baptisme of young children is in any wise to be retained in the Church, as most agreeable with the institution of Christ.

Of the Lords Supper.

pugnant to the plain words of Scripture, over-given occasion to many superstitions.

The body of Christ is given, taken, and eaten in the Supper onely after an heavenly and spiri-

of Christ is received and eaten in the Supper, is
